LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen today blocked House action on a resolution to create a Study Commission on Higher Education.

Van Dalsen threatened to filibuster against the resolution after the House rejected his amendment which would have held up construction appropriation for colleges if the resolution was adopted. Authors of the resolution said the Van Dalsen amendment was merely an attempt to kill the resolution and thus block formation of a study group.

Van Dalsen got only 17 votes for his amendment to 63 against it.

When the resolution was called up for a vote, Van Dalsen began a filibuster but he left the floor when Speaker John P. Bethell ruled the resolution had not been printed and on House members' desks for the 24 hours required before action can be taken without a suspension of the rules.

Jackson County Rep. Lonnie Etheridge, one of the authors, said he would not ask for rules suspension, but would bring the resolution up Thursday.

Proponents of the resolution oppose creation of an overall board of control for institutions of higher learning.

Originally they wanted the commission established instead of an overall board, but they failed Monday to block a bill to create such a board.

Etheridge said he still intends to push for creation of a Study Commission because there is a chance the overall board bill will be defeated in the Senate and a further possibility that it will be declared unconstitutional even if it is signed into law.

Etheridge said he had the advice of several lawyers that the bill would be invalidated because it usurps some powers of the present individual college boards.

The overall board bill fails for any reason, it leaves us with nothing," Etheridge said. "We certainly need this Study Commission to guard against that eventuality."

Castro Urges Brazilians to Take Up Arms

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro today urged Brazil "to profit from the experience of Cuba" and set up a guerrilla war against what he said was "reactionary militarists" who forced the resignation of President Janio Quadros.

Castro, in a television speech seen here, said that "if workers, peasants, students and progressive people and honest military men take up arms and organize not one front but a thousand fronts, never will the military reactionaries be able to defeat them."

That verdict came from N. S. Patterson, association director, and William H. Taft, of the University of Missouri, who judged college yearbooks. The 1961 Razorback, edited by John Moore of Paragould, received an A plus rating.

Congress of Brazil Locked in Bitter Fight

By TOM MASTERSON

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil's Congress was locked in a bitter struggle today with the country's three military chiefs who defied the constitution in an attempt to block leftist Vice President Joao Goulart from succeeding to the presidency.

Angry congressmen named a commission of eight senators and eight deputies to study the service chiefs' attempt to flout the constitution and gave the commission 48 hours to come up with recommendations. Congress was to meet again today to consider the situation.

Goulart was still in Europe, waiting for a congressional delegation to join him to advise him of his prospects. He and his wife went Monday to Barcelona to visit their children, who have been holidaying on the Spanish Mediterranean coast.

Support for the vice president mounted in his home state of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil's southernmost. Gov. Leonel Brizola went on the air to proclaim that his state will stand behind the vice president, his brother-in-law. He ordered the state militia to back him up and warned that he would not accept any move to block Goulart's inauguration.

Authorities in the provincial capital of Porto Alegre set up barricades around the governor's palace.

Brizola said Goulart might fly to neighboring Uruguay if barred from Rio. He indicated the vice president would then go to Porto Alegre, presumably to set up a government there.

A radio broadcast from southern Brazil claimed that army and air force commanders in the states of Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catarina and Parana had announced support for the vice president. But Gov. Ney Braga of Parana broadcast an appeal to Congress to prevent bloodshed by finding legal means to return Janio Quadros to the presidency he quit last week.

Quadros left the port of Santos Monday aboard a British ship, apparently bound for London. Friends quoted him as saying, "They are sending me away, but I shall return."

The military's attempt to prevent Goulart from taking over sent Congress into a joint emergency session in the inland capital of Brasilia.

Congressmen normally opposed to the 42-year-old Labor party leader demanded that he be permitted to succeed to the presidency in order to preserve constitutional democracy.

Hope Student Council Holds First Meet

The Hope Student Council conducted its first meeting of the year Monday at 1:30 p. m. in the high school building. Council president Joe Lingo presided at this meeting in which the organization planned activities and projects for the new school year.

Secretary Ginger Bowden called the roll and read the minutes, and she was followed by guidance teacher Earl Downs, who talked to the council on "Service to the school."

Later, the list of monitors and committees for the first week of school was read.

Delegates Joe Lingo, Vince Foster, Ginger Bowden and Mr. Downs discussed the student council workshop they attended at ASTC in Conway.

After student council advisor Mrs. W. A. Williams explained a new financial record system, the meeting was adjourned.

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (AP) — A fishing drifter and a 60 foot fishing party boat, with 49 passengers, collided in thick fog today southwest of Block Island. The party boat sank. All were saved, but at least six persons were hurt.

The fishing party boat, out of Montauk Point, N.Y., was the Joshua B.; the dragger, the Anna Grace, out of Point Judith for a day's fishing with a crew of three. The rescued were taken aboard the Anna Grace and a Coast Guard patrol boat and brought ashore.

Dr. Mauricio Goldberg, Block Island town physician, said six or seven persons were taken to his office—apparently suffering from immersion and exposure, abrasions or bruises. He said one might have a leg fracture.

A little girl, passenger of the Joshua B., said she was one of a party of four on their first fishing trip. She said she was out on deck when the other vessel came out of the fog.

Another survivor—also unidentified—said eight persons were thrown into the water. Joseph F. Cummings, a drug salesman from Whitestone, N.Y., was aboard the Joshua B., with his three sons, William, 14, Robert, 13, and Brian, 9.

He said he was on vacation and that the fishing boat left Montauk about 5 a. m.

He said that the Joshua B., was hit "broadside amidships" about 6:10 a. m.

Capt. Ray Browning of the Anna Grace was not available for comment.

"I got the (the boys) all aboard the Anna Grace," Cummings said.

Cummings said he estimated the Joshua B. sank within 10 minutes, but he added: "It seemed longer."

Case to Set a Precedent in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A precedent-setting teacher compensation case and an appeal of a bombing conviction highlight a crowded docket for the fall term of the state Supreme Court starting Monday.

The court also will get a new justice soon after it meets for the first time since last spring. Judge J. S. Holt has announced plans to retire Sept. 4, the day court reconvenes.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has said he won't name a successor until Holt actually leaves the bench. About 175 appeals are pending before the court. It won't hand down any decisions at its first meeting. Opinions will be given regularly each Monday thereafter.

The case concerning compensation for a teacher's death will set an important precedent no matter which way the court rules. Mrs. Donald Muse of Prescott filed a claim with the Workmen's Compensation Commission after her husband died of a heart attack March 26, 1960. The school district claims it is exempt from the compensation laws — in other words, teachers aren't covered.

The case was appealed to the Supreme Court after Pulaski County Circuit Judge Guy Amstutz issued an order prohibiting the Compensation Commission from hearing Mrs. Muse's case.

Also before the court is an appeal by Herbert Odell Monts, 18, a Little Rock Negro convicted and sentenced to five years in prison in a bombing Feb. 9, 1960, at the home of Carlotta Walls, then a Negro student at Central High School.

Monts contended a confession was forced from him.

A second Negro convicted in the case, Maceo Antonio Binns, won a reversal of his sentence last March on grounds of an involuntary confession.

A retrial of Binns is pending.

Reserve Division May Be Called

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The 95th Reserve Division, made up of units from Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, may be called to active duty if more replacements are needed, said Maj. Gen. Paul B. Bell, division commander.

"If the international situation keeps becoming more critical and the men in command and authority decide they must have more replacements, then we'll be called," Bell said Monday.

The 95th, a training division, completed two weeks of summer training Sunday at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Ministers Meet on Berlin May Come Sept. 19

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today the Western Big Four have tentatively agreed to hold a Western foreign ministers meeting on Berlin in advance of the U.N. General Assembly session starting Sept. 19.

The foreign affairs chief of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany presumably would meet in either Washington or New York although the exact details have not yet been set, he said.

State Department press officer Lincoln White gave this information in response to questions about reports that the Western Big Four foreign ministers would soon hold a Berlin strategy session.

Other sources said either Secretary of State Dean Rusk or British Foreign Minister Lord Home probably would contact Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko informally as the U.N. Session gets under way, to sound out whether worthwhile negotiations might be possible on the Berlin dispute.

The informal approach to Gromyko presumably would be a compromise substitute for a formal diplomatic note which the Allies had considered sending in reply to an Aug. 3 Moscow note offering negotiations on Soviet terms.

Diplomatic sources said meanwhile that the idea of a formal proposal to Moscow for negotiations has been shelved for now.

That information came out after a morning call by Rusk on President Kennedy. Rusk met Monday with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

Poultry Prices Not on Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports that retail prices of poultry haven't kept pace during the postwar inflation period than with prices of meats.

The reason for this, it said, is largely because of increased efficiency of production and a practice of many retailers of offering poultry meat at or near wholesale costs.

The U. S. retail prices of broilers averaged 43 cents a pound in 1960 and 42 cents in 1959 compared with 60 cents in the 1947-49 period.

A Few Defy Gang Tactics of Hoffa

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A band of Tucson truck drivers has rebelled against James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union, accusing their local officers of strong-arm tactics. "We'll live with it until they're out," said Wayne Hobson about officers in Local 310.

There was no immediate comment from local officers.

Hobson is one of 170 members who broke with the local in a Sunday night meeting. He said the split had nothing to do with earlier Teamsters rebellions in Cincinnati, Ohio, and St. Louis, Mo.

"No, this thing's been brewing about three years. We don't even know if we have any money. They won't even show us the books. We're determined to get loose," Hobson said.

George Patterson, another of the group, added: "Hoffa's strong-arm tactics have been passed down to the local level where we can no longer accept such domination. We want to be independent or join the AFL-CIO." Hoffa is president of the union.

Hobson said that one member of the dissident group had received an anonymous telephone call, threatening "We are going to knock you off unless you get in line."

Hobson said he had received many calls pledging support to the rebels but had not received any threatening calls.

President Frank A. Williams of the 1,200-member local is in San Francisco for negotiations on a freight industry contract and could not be reached for comment.

Accused Bank Robber Indicted

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Howard Norman Gray, 38, of Bossier City, La., has been indicted by a federal grand jury on federal bank robbery charges in connection with a hold-up at the Taylor Branch of the First National Bank of Magnolia July 18.

Police said Gray got $4,000 in the robbery, in which a bank clerk and another man were forced into the bank vault. They were not hurt.

Gray was arrested in San Angelo, Tex., the FBI said, and part of the money was recovered. He is in the county jail at Fort Smith.

Congress to Fight Over Continuance of Rights Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today scheduled a preliminary vote for Wednesday in the fight over a proposal to extend the Civil Rights Commission for two years.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader, abandoned plans for a vote this afternoon.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., assailed the commission as "an ill-conceived, sloppily constituted, and arbitrarily administered disgrace to our governmental structure."

He said "nothing good can come of a commission which exhibits a complete disinterest in the truth, and which operates to the sole end of fabricating support for pre-conceived prejudices."

In an obvious effort to lessen opposition of Southern Democrats and other opponents of civil rights legislation, Mansfield served notice that he would move to table or kill all proposals except the two-year extension.

A motion to table is not debatable and so forces an immediate test.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., urged that the commission be allowed to expire Nov. 9. He called it "a paper-shuffling agency of waste and harassment."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights group called today for presidential action to stamp out segregation and racial discrimination in federally supported programs and activities.

In a 16 page memorandum submitted to the White House, the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights said such discrimination now exists in the areas of military service, education, housing, employment, health services and agriculture.

Roy Wilkins and Arnold Aronson and chairman and secretary, respectively, of the conference.

Wilkins is also executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The memorandum was prepared in response to a White House request for a detailed report on discrimination in federally aided programs that could be corrected by executive order.

By giving grants, loans, repayable advances and shared revenue to state and local governments in the South, the LCCR said, the federal government has a "passive involvement" in programs and activities that "make it a silent but nonetheless full partner in the perpetuation of discriminatory practices."

It cited 11 Southern states which it said, "as a matter of official policy continue in large measure to require, support or condone discrimination in violation of the Constitution."

These states, the memorandum said, last year received more than $1 billion in federal grants. This assistance "constitutes an important factor in the budgets of the 11 states, the group said, ranging from 10 per cent of the total budget in Florida to 22 per cent in Alabama and Arkansas."

The group urged the President to issue a general federal civil rights code requiring all agencies receiving federal funds or other federal assistance to assure non-discrimination.

Reports Union Picks GM as Strike Target

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — Speculation mounted today that the United Auto Workers Union will choose General Motors as its No. 1 strike target in support of new contract demands.

The GM contract expires at 12:01 a. m. local time Friday. So do contracts at Ford and Chrysler.

The International Executive Board meets at 6 p. m. to name the adversary—if a strike comes.

In both 1955 and 1958 the UAW chose to tackle Ford, regarded as big enough to force a pattern and financially strong enough to survive a strike if one occurred. On both occasions, settlements were reached without strikes.

The union has been shooting at GM ever since current negotiations started in late June. Last Saturday, in announcing agreement in principle on a new contract with American Motors, UAW President Walter Reuther made repeated references to General Motors, urging the giant of the industry to make a better offer.

National councils of the union's GM, Ford and Chrysler departments meeting in advance of the executive board session are expected to submit formal requests for strike authority.

Strike authorization would not necessarily mean there would be a strike. Contracts have been extended in the past when there was last-minute advancement toward new ones.

The UAW and American Motors Corp., fourth largest auto builder, reached agreement Saturday on the first profit-sharing plan in the auto industry. The agreement also carries an annual average wage increase of seven cents for each of three years and broadly increases layoff pay, pensions and other fringes.

The UAW now is demanding that the Big Three meet or better the AMC agreement economically, via profit-sharing or otherwise. The Big Three has said it has no intention of writing profit-sharing into a wage contract.

The Big Three proposed to continue an annual seven-cent hourly productivity wage increase and a current cost-of-living escalator, but with a proviso the latter could advance no more than six cents in three years. They also proposed to broaden fringe benefits and to give half-pay for any hours fewer than 36 in a short workweek.

The UAW now is demanding that the Big Three meet or better the AMC agreement economically, via profit-sharing or otherwise. The Big Three has said it has no intention of writing profit-sharing into a wage contract.

Court Bill Gets Okay in House

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House Monday unanimously passed a bill specifying that the three divisions of Pulaski Circuit Court are entirely separate and that juries are not interchangeable.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus requested the measure because of a federal appeals court ruling which set aside a Negro rapist's death sentence because Negroes hadn't served on juries in the 2nd or 3rd Divisions of the court since 1939.

The Negro, Luther Bailey, was convicted in the 1st, or Criminal, Division, and state attorneys said the three divisions were separate. Some Negroes do serve in the 1st Division. The other divisions handle civil cases.

Bailey was convicted of raping a white widow in 1956. The appeals court decision has been taken to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Decision in Brazil Key in S. America

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In this most savage of centuries, and the most unpredictable, the resignation of Brazil's President Janio Quadros may be only a minor episode or a turning point in the history of the Western Hemisphere.

One thing is sure: Brazil with 67 million people, is the biggest of all Latin American countries and, whatever direction it takes, it will have an effect on its neighbors.

At this point no one seems sure whether Brazil will turn left — Jono Goulart, the vice president supposed to succeed Quadros is a leftist — or whether a military dictatorship of the right will take over and keep Goulart out.

For that matter, it doesn't seem too clear what direction Quadros might have taken or whether this sudden move if his is part of a plan to come back soon — how he could do it isn't clear, either — with more power than before.

Even Goulart seemed uncertain over the weekend. He had visited Communist China and was in Hong Kong when news of Quadros' resignation reached him. He started flying home but stopped off in Paris.

He seemed to want to make sure what kind of reception to expect when he got home — trouble or open arms.

Brazil is a land of great wealth and enormous poverty. In the northeast Communists had stirred the peasants to revolt. When Quadros became president, seven

Negro Sought in Carolina Race Trouble

MONROE, N.C. (AP)—A husky, bearded Negro who fortified his home and has repeatedly advanted meeting violence with violence in racial integration disputes, is a fugitive today, hunted on kidnap charges.

Robert F. Williams, 36, his wife and two children disappeared hours before he was indicted by the Union County grand jury Monday for allegedly holding a white couple hostage Sunday night.

Williams is an avowed admirer of Cuban leader Fidel Castro. The FBI issued a warrant for his arrest on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

City police and state troopers Monday stormed Williams' house, where the white couple and others had seen firearms as recently as Sunday night. They found no weapons—only a few of Williams' followers, both white and Negro.

At the "Freedom House," Williams' other refuge for local and visiting anti-segregationists, law officers also came up empty-handed.

Daniel Thompson of Cleveland, Ohio, who said he was a member of the Monroe Non-Violent Action Committee said telegrams had been sent to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina, Mayor Fred Wilson of Monroe, the Rev. Martin Luther King, an integration leader and James Farmer of the Committee of Racial Equality.

"We do not feel that recent events, grave as they may be, have eliminated the need for our presence," Thompson quoted the telegram as saying, "but in fact have proven the necessity for a non-violent movement in Monroe to continue."

Thompson said 17 "Freedom Riders" came to Monroe on Aug. 17 to "help eliminate racial discrimination by non-violent methods." He said the group that signed the telegram had no plans to leave Monroe.

After a week of anti-segregationist picketing around the courthouse, this county seat of 10,000 battered with fist fights and other racial clashes during the weekend. About 60 arrests were made, mostly on charges of inciting a riot and carrying concealed weapons. A policeman was wounded by a gunshot in the leg.

G. Bruce Stegall and his wife said they were driving through the town Sunday night, en route to their homes at nearby Marshville, when they were stopped by about 200 Negroes.

Mrs. Stegall told newsmen they were taken to Williams' home, tied up and kept at gunpoint. She said Williams chided the Negroes for kidnapping them, but that he telephoned the police chief and told him unless the Negroes in jail were freed, the Stegalls would be killed.

The Stegalls said they were re-

AEA Offers Deal With Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Education Association has offered not to try to get surplus state funds for teacher salaries if the legislature uses the money for what the AEA considers urgent state construction.

In a statement released to news media Monday night, AEA officials said they approved of $17.4 million in appropriations scheduled to be divided among some state agencies and institutions.

They suggested that the remaining $2.5 million surplus go to increase appropriations for institutions with most critical needs, especially the State Hospital.

The AEA said that if the legislature devotes surplus funds to such items as livestock shows, National Guard armories, state parks the State Police and a new vocational trade school, it will "press as vigorously as possible for $2 million of the surplus to the payment of teachers' salaries."

Issuing the statement were Hays Gibson, AEA vice president, Hal Kenner, a chairman of the Legislative Committee and Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary.

The AEA said it supports a $6,048,440 appropriation to the State Hospital, $400,000 to the Children's Colony, and all college appropriations.

The statement listed each appropriation of which the AEA approves and disapproves. It called

Poisoning of Witness Under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate crime investigators today seek the story behind the poisoning of a scheduled witness.

Until he was found in his home, unconscious from an overdose of sleeping tablets, Frank W. Lyons had been slated for questioning about Chicago race wire services which sell horse race information to illegal betting establishments.

Lyons was reported in a Chicago area hospital, too ill from barbituric acid poisoning to testify at this time. Whether he will be called later was not disclosed by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

But Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., subpoenaed Police Sgt. Morris English of Arlington Heights, a Chicago suburb, and others to tell of circumstances which preceded the overdose of drug.

The subcommittee planned to explore the operations of a big Chicago race wire known as the Illinois Sports Service, which operates through the Middle West.

Thomas Kelly Sr., the service's reputed head, and various of Kelly's associates, including his son, Thomas Jr., were scheduled to testify.

The subcommittee has traced a big, internationally operating wire service run by Albert Tollin of Wilmington, Del.

A shapely platinum blonde, Lucille Lorraine Rice of Laurel, Md., and others described themselves as secret agents who signal race results from the tracks so fast that Tollin can flash them by telephone to his customers within 25 seconds after a finish.

Atlanta Set for School Integration

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Special police security measures went into effect today just 24 hours before nine Negroes planned to attend white public high schools for the first time in Georgia history.

Originally 10 Negroes were entered with about 4,400 white pupils at four widely separated city schools.

Damaris Jeannette Allen, 16, announced Monday that she had decided to accept a full-tuition scholarship at Negro Spelman College in Atlanta and would not attend Brown High as planned.

Her mother, Mrs. Robert L. Allen said no outside influences or pressures of any kind were involved in the decision. "It was too good an offer to turn down," she said.

Two other Negroes still are enrolled at Brown. The others are slated to go to Murphy, Grady and Northside.

Airlines to Try Half Fare Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today approved the plan of 13 airlines to fly at half fare passengers 12 through 21 years old.

The board dismissed complaints by three airlines against the proposal, but said its decision was a close one because arguments against the fares had "considerable merit."

The board ordered the airlines to submit statements evaluating the experiment, along with statistical data, at the end of each three-month period. The fares were approved for a six-month trial period.

Reservations at the reduced fares may be made no earlier than three hours before the scheduled departure, and only on presentation of a ticket.

said literature was being distributed calling for a boycott of the four high schools. He said some of the literature carried names, addresses and photographs of the Negroes being admitted to the schools under a federal court order.

Jenkins said special security measures were being taken to prevent any incidents in the wake of Monday's brief picketing at Murphy High, empty at the time, and before City Hall.

Five pickets paraded for a short time at City Hall.

School Supt. John Letso predicted the schools would be desegregated peacefully. He told Chamber of Commerce leaders from many parts of the state he did not expect Atlanta to be "a Little Rock or a New Orleans."

Hijacking Bill to Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress sent to President Kennedy today a bill imposing penalties up to death for airplane hijacking.

The Senate and House had passed rival versions of the bill but the Senate agreed today to accept the House bill.

Sen. A. S. Mike Moroney, D-Montana, told colleagues "we do not know when another hijacking may occur."

He said he therefore was reluctant to wait for a Senate-House conference to thrash out a compromise.

The bill defines the in-air seizure of planes as an act of piracy.
It would provide penalties from 20 years in prison up to death.

Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: My husband and I, having neither friends nor family to whom we can go in our extremity, turn to you. Our plight is being so much in love that we cannot tolerate separation, even for a short while. This would be no problem if he weren't in the U. S. Navy and at sea six months each year.

Last month we had our first child and even the Red Cross couldn't arrange for us to be together. Now, we've received definite word that, on every big holiday, for the next four years, he will be on duty.

Our son will be five years old before knowing the joy of having his Dad home for Christmas and Easter.

I'm sure many couples are faced with this same problem and some love as deeply as we; yet, like us, seek a solution. But, is there one? Work and keeping busy may be a partial answer; but, how can we explain to our son about his father's absence? Please help us before these ghastly separations destroy two married lovers. My husband is 21, I was 20 last month. —Lonely Couple.

Dear Lonely Couple: If you could read the thousands of letters written to me by warring husbands and wives, you'd say, "What a lucky couple we are!" Be thankful for your deep love and your baby. Rejoice in the hours you're together. Face the world proudly, serene in the knowledge that your husband is serving his country. Once your little boy is old enough to understand, he'll have the same reason to be proud. I repeat, rejoice.

Dear Helen: I am 16 and have lived in the same town and neighborhood all my life. Until a new family moved next door it has been reasonably quiet. They have four small children and a boy 17. He's my problem.

The family is fatherless and the mother works during the day to support them. This 17-year-old never lifts a hand to help. Instead, he wastes time on two boys who give me nose pimples whenever I think of them. One was caught lifting an old woman's pension check from the mail box. The other is equally bad. I'm so scared I no longer leave the house, though an outdoors girl who loves summer in the open. Mother is just as nervous. Would it be out of place for her or my father, to warn the 17-year-old boys' mother about these kids? We doubt she knows their reputation. —Scared to Death.

Dear Scared: It would be entirely proper for your father to talk to the mother, provided what you tell is based on fact, not hearsay. For added ammunition he had better check the boys' records. For all you know, they may have reformed. If so, your father could give them a push up the ladder. Instead of a shove down, by encouraging them to join a young people's group in your neighborhood church or YMCA.

Dear Helen: My girl friend is making a fool of herself over the boy up the street. He and I are real good friends and he's in and out of my house every day. I know for a fact that he's just wolfing her. I figure what he does is his own affair, but I hate to see this girl hurt. Should I mind my own business or tell her what's what? We're all three the same age—19. —L. D.

Dear L. D.: Mind your own business. Those who busy themselves about the affairs of others—unless their advice is specifically sought, are asking for trouble. Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Today's offering: "Neighbors."

Admits Using Telephone in Gambling

WASHINGTON (AP) - The manager of a Wilmington, Del., sports service testified today he distributes by telephone the unofficial winners of horse races at virtually every major track in the country but has no bookmakers as customers.

Albert Tollin, a partner and general manager of the Delaware Sports Service, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee that he would cut off his service to anyone he knew to be a bookmaker.

He said his subscribers are professional bettors who place legitimate bets at race tracks and then use his service "to relieve anxiety."

When asked if bookmakers comprised his clientele, Tollin answered: "Not at the prices I charge."

He said he charges a customer $20 for the winner of one race prior to results distributed by news media, $30 for two results and $50 for five results—the most he will distribute to any one person.

Under questioning, Tollin said he doesn't know whether any of his customers use phony names.

But he acknowledged one of them is known to him only as "Jo Jo," another as "Biff" and a third as "Charlie Eye."

Before calling Tollin, the subcommittee heard a Florida electronics technician testify he invented a device which has been used by some gamblers to baffle police wire tappers and cheat telephone companies on long distance tolls.

Arkansas to Have Longer Duck Season

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas will have the longest duck season—30 days—permitted under federal rules this year.

The Game and Fish Commission Monday set the season for Nov. 24 to Dec. 23. It chose a season of 30 consecutive days instead of one of three alternatives. The season could be set any time between Oct. 13 and Dec. 31.

The daily limit will be two ducks and the possession limit four ducks, both half the limits of last year. Last year's season was 40 days.

The Interior Department tightened up federal regulations to reduce the duck kill because of a decline in duck flights.

Arkansas could have chosen to split its season with limits of two and four ducks, to have a 20-day season with limits of three and six ducks or to split a 20-day season with limits of three and six.

The daily shooting period was cut one-half hour. Last year shooting was allowed from one-half before sunrise to sunset. This year the hours are from sunrise to sunset.

The commission voted to use this year the deer checking system used in 1959. Each deer killed must be checked by commission personnel.

The commission proclaimed a closed season on alligators. No change was made in the year-long trout season.

Other seasons set by the commission include:

Goose: Oct. 25-Dec. 23. Bag limit five, only two of which may be Canadian geese.

Rabbit: Oct. 1-Dec. 31, one month later than last year.

Squirrel: Sept. 15-31 in the south zone and Sept. 15-Dec. 15 in the north zone.

Deer: gun. Nov. 13-18, Dec. 11-16 and Dec. 29-31; bow and arrow Oct. 1-Nov. 30; crossbow Oct. 16-22.

Quail: Dec. 1-Jan. 31, limit 8 daily.

Furbearing animals: Nov. 20-Jan. 20, except for muskrat, otter and beaver, which may be taken through Feb. 28.

Hutchinson Signs Redleg Pact

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Fred Hutchinson was signed today to a new two-year contract to manage the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

General Manager Bill Dewitt said it was normal to assume that the new contract called for a pay increase although figures were not disclosed.

Hutchinson became manager of the Reds on July 9, 1959, succeeding Mayo Smith. The Reds finished in a fifth-place tie that season, and were sixth in 1960.

E. German Cop Slips to West

BRAUNSCHWEIG, Germany (AP)—A 28-year-old East German border policeman slipped into West Germany Sunday night while patrolling the Iron Curtain border and has asked for political asylum, Western border guards reported today.

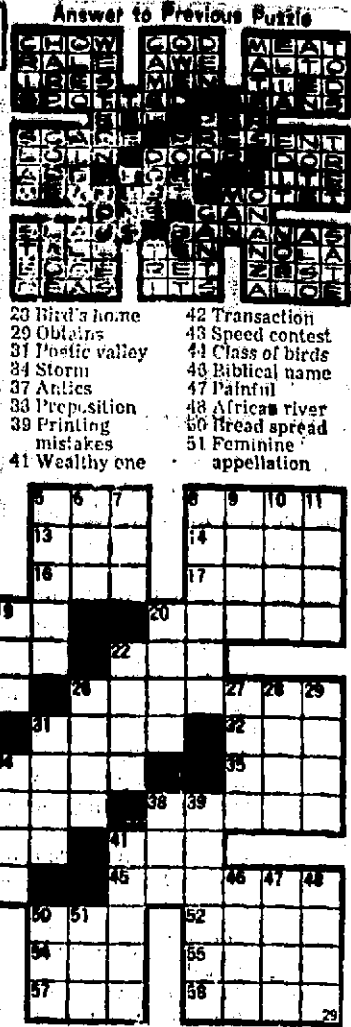

A second defection to the West was reported by Bavarian Border Patrol headquarters, which said an East German border guard crossed near Pressig, wearing his full uniform and carrying his arms.

Coaches Pleased With Progress of Bobcats

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobcats started the week off right yesterday with a very successful practice. Both Bobcat coaches were pleased with the workout, especially the offensive attack.

T-Bo Roberts, at 190 pounds and Ray Easterling, weighing 165, are two ends who came out for the first time yesterday. These seniors are expected to help out the Bobcat line and add strength. Head Coach John Pierce commended junior tackles, Kendall Yocom and Charles Beyerley, who both tip the scales at better than 200 pounds.

Pierce was pleased with the blocking of Chuck Beggs and the hustling of sophomores Dan Jones, James Marcum and Paul Randolph.

When a coach asked Dan Jones if smoking was bothering him during yesterday's session, Dan wearily answered, "Coach, I don't smoke. I don't drink and I get plenty of rest. I'm just tired!" Backfield coach, Jim Faulkner, seemed impressed in the team's offense. He said that much of the offensive load will be carried by junior fullback Roy Wray. He added that he liked the work of senior quarterback Tony McLarty.

Mick Admits Not Getting Distance

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Mickey Mantle today conceded that he wasn't getting the distance in his blasts he did four or five years ago.

"They say the baseball is livelier this year than ever before," said the New York Yankee outfielder, who in 1956 batted .353, hit 52 home runs and cracked distance record in many parks. He's currently batting .321.

"All I know is that I'm hitting the ball as hard as ever this year but I'm not getting the distance I did four or five years ago and I'm not hitting as well for average."

"Why? Because the pitchers are slicker and smarter than they ever were before. I know they are a lot better than they were when I came up 10 years ago."

Mantle and Roger Maris are scheduled to resume their chase for Babe Ruth's home run record of 60-154-game version—tonight against the Minnesota Twins. Mantle currently has 46—and only one in the past 14 games.

Maris has 51 but he, too, has tapered off with only three in the last 14 games.

"If Roger breaks the record," Mantle admitted, "he should receive full credit. It's unfair to let belittle his efforts with such criticism that the ball is livelier, the bat is lighter and so on.

"Certainly the equipment is different than it was years ago. In what sport hasn't it changed. In golf they have steel-shafted clubs that drive balls more than 100 yards further than the wooden shafts they used before I was born. Does that mean the top golfers today aren't as good as the stars of years ago?"

Mantle said that with all the talk about old-timers using a hefty 50-ounce bat, he'd use the same thing if the pitchers would throw him only fast balls and curves.

"But," he pointed out, "with the change-ups, sliders, knuckleballs, screwballs and all sorts of old pitches coming up, you've got to use a much lighter bat in order to be able to manipulate it and change your swing at the last instant."

"These pitches aren't new, but more pitchers are using them. Sure, the bats are better made and if a batter goes all out with his swing, he'll get distance. But they can't get as many hits as they used to or get that average because the technique of the pitchers has improved tremendously."

You can get the best of any argument by not taking part in it.

Spahn Only 4 Wins Away From 20 Mark

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was March in Florida and a well-known astute man of baseball was making his pennant-race selections in the National League while scouting a spring training exhibition game.

"I'll pick the Giants to win it," said the scout (he'll remain unidentified to save him the embarrassment of explaining why he picked his own club so low). "Then the Dodgers and then the Cards."

"The Braves? Make 'em fourth. 'You've gotta figure that maybe this is the year Warren Spahn doesn't win 20,'" he explained, "but a lot of guys have been figuring for a lot of years that 'maybe this is the year Spahn doesn't win 20!'"

Well, the Braves are fourth, at the moment, but Spahn? Warren the Wonder, well past the 300-victory milestone, now is just four shy of hanging up 20 victories for the 12th time after packing away a 16-12 record Monday night as the Braves whipped Philadelphia 7-1.

It was Spahn's seventh straight success and gave him a career total of 304 victories. That's tops for a left-hander in NL history, and just one shy of the all-time major league victory total by a southpaw. Eddie Plank finished with 305 for Philadelphia and St. Louis in the American League.

The Chicago Cubs won 5-4 at Pittsburgh in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

In the American League, Detroit rapped Washington 7-3 and climbed within 1½ games of idle first place New York. Baltimore defeated the Los Angeles Angels 8-1 and Boston beat Kansas City 4-3 in the only other games scheduled.

Spahn gave up 10 hits, but the Phils' run was unearned. It scored on a single, a walk and two errors in the fourth inning. It was the third time Spahn has

Maris, Mantle Slump in Try for New Record

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers, setting up a hungry growl behind Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash, and the New York Yankees, just fair to middlin' marauders these days behind Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle, begin a prelude to pandemonium in the American League pennant race tonight.

The first place Yankees open a three game series at Minnesota against the ninth-place Twins with Maris and Mantle slumping in pursuit of Babe Ruth's 60 home run record. And the Tigers, now just 1½ games behind New York, start a three-game home stand against the Chicago White Sox with Colavito within reach of an RBI record and Cash leading the league's hitters at .370.

That will carry the two leaders through Thursday—setting up a weekend rumble in the Bronx when Detroit moves into Yankee Stadium for a three-game showdown beginning Friday night.

Detroit, denied a pennant since 1945, closed in on the idle Yankees Monday with a 7-3 victory for a four-game sweep at Washington. It was Jake Wood's grand slam that put it away, but Cash was 3-for-3 and Colavito walloped his 39th home run, gaining a tie with Maris for the league RBI lead with 120.

It was the ninth consecutive game in which the Rock has batted in one or more runs. The given up 10 hits in his seven-game streak—but the crafty, 40-year-old veteran has allowed no more than two runs in any game in the string.

The Braves, just a half-game behind third place San Francisco going into the opener of a two-game set with the Giants tonight, scored two runs in the second inning, three on Roy McMillan's homer, as Robin Roberts (1-10) suffered the 199th defeat of his career.

G&F to Set Hunt Seasons

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Game and Fish Commission today met to set a number of hunting seasons, including those on ducks and geese.

A spokesman said it might be late afternoon before the regulations were announced.

Federal authorities recently imposed stringent regulations on waterfowl because of an expected decrease in flights this fall.

State regulatory groups were given some leeway in fixing of seasons.

Some hunting seasons had been set earlier by the commission.

AL record is 10, set by Yankee Lou Gehrig in 1931.

Third place Baltimore walloped the Los Angeles Angels 4-1 and Boston beat Kansas City 4-3 in the only other AL games scheduled.

In the National League, where Cincinnati leads Los Angeles by 3½ games, Milwaukee whipped Philadelphia 7-1 and the Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh 5-4 in the only games scheduled.

Detroit made it five in a row on Woods' sixth inning slam off reliever Ed Hobaugh. It was Wood's first bases-loaded home run in the majors, but the 38th of the year in the AL, breaking the major league record of 37 set by the AL in 1938. Rodnie Kline (5-7) was the winner.

The Tigers had 11 hits off loser Joe McClain (7-15) and two relievers as the Senators lost their 10th in a row. Al Kaline also homered for the Tigers, who finished the season series with a 13-5 edge.

Jim Gentile and Ron Hansen each hit two-run homers for the Orioles while Hal Brown (10-4) held the Angels to five hits. Ted Bowsfield (9-6) was the loser.

Lookout Still In Pennant Contention

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chattanooga's frisky young Lookouts are still very much alive in the race for the Southern Association pennant, and nobody knows it better than pace setting Birmingham.

The Barons continued their assault on Atlanta pitching Monday night, slugging the Crackers 9-3, but Chattanooga was busily engaged at the same time snipping half a game off Birmingham's lead. The Lookouts trailed by 1½ today after sweeping a double-header from third-place Little Rock 4-3 and 11-5.

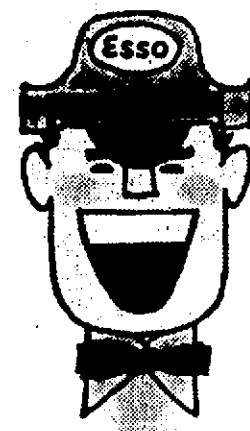

Macon split a pair with Mobile and missed a chance to gain another game on fourth-place Atlanta. Mobile won the opener 5-2. Nashville trimmed Shreveport 8-2. Macon took the second game 1-0 as lefty John Davolio posted his eighth consecutive victory.

Chattanooga's sweep extended the Lookouts' victory string to six games. They had to rally for three runs in the final inning of the first game, but they won the second easily after jarring Traveler starter Chuck Daniel for four runs in the first inning.

Trailing 3-1 going into the bottom of the seventh in the first game, the Lookouts got off the deck on Gerry Reimer's homer, a triple by Wayne Grahnam, an error and Nor Gigon's game-winning single with the bases full.

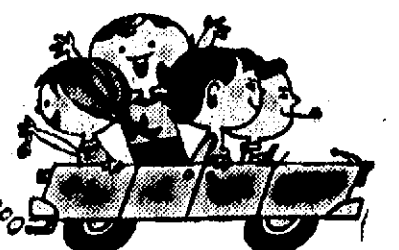

The state's compulsory school attendance law was passed in 1903.
